Cofeb Pincyn Llys

Adeiladodd yr Ail Arglwydd Bagot y gofeb hon yn 1830 i goffau plannu'r goedwig gonifferau wreiddiol. Torrwyd y goedwig yn ystod y Rhyfel Byd Cyntaf, ond cafodd ei hail-blannu gan y Comisiwn Coedwigaeth yn 1930 yn rhan o Goedwig Clocaenog. Mae'r gofeb yn sefyll ar ben gwrthglawdd a elwir yn Llys y Frenhines.

Cadarnle'r Brenhinwyr

Yn ystod y rhyfel cartref roedd Dyffryn Clwyd yn cefnogi'r Brenin Siarl I ac yn ôl cofnodion yr eglwys, fe arhosodd Y Brenin Siarl I yn Gyffylliog yn ystod y rhyfel i archwilio'i filwyr.

Pincyn Llys Memorial

The 2nd Lord Bagot erected this monument in 1830 to commemorate the planting of the original conifer forest. This forest was cut down during and after WW1 but replanted in 1930 by the Forestry Commission, as part of Clocaenog Forest. The monument stands in the middle of an earthwork known as Llys y Frenhines - the Queen's Court House.

A Royalist stronghold

The Vale of Clwyd gentry were strong supporters of King Charles I during the Civil War. The church registers indicates that King Charles I stopped at Cyffylliog to review his troops during the war.
